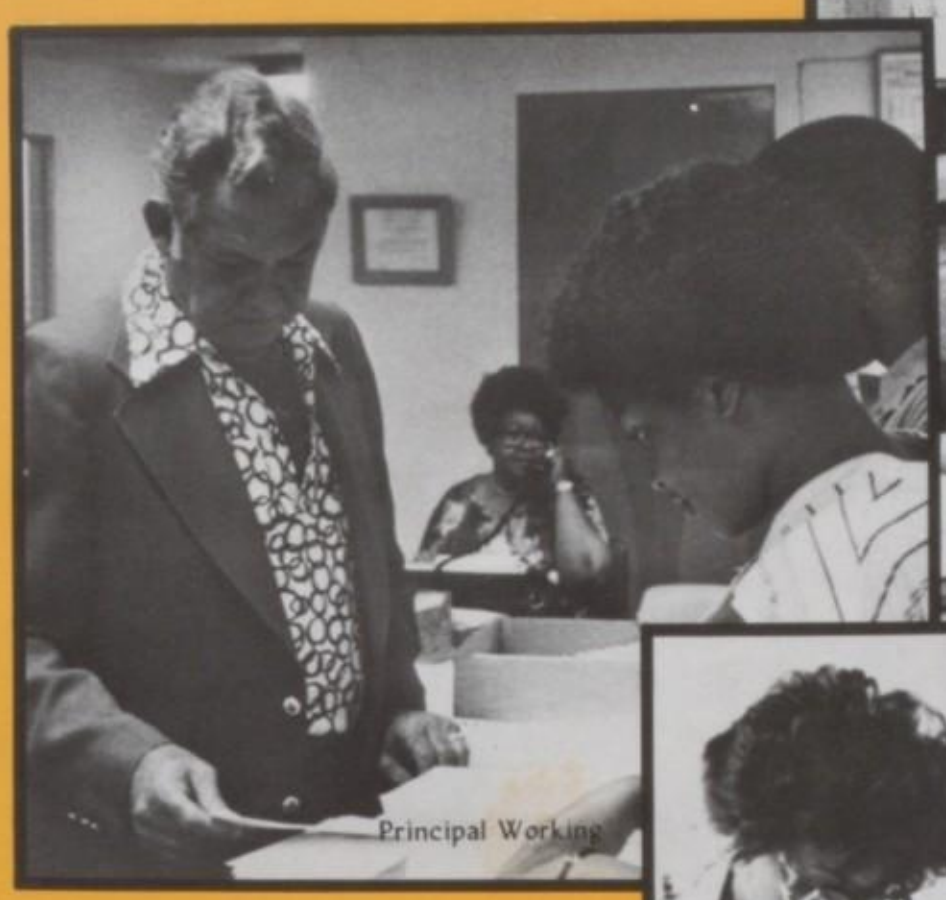
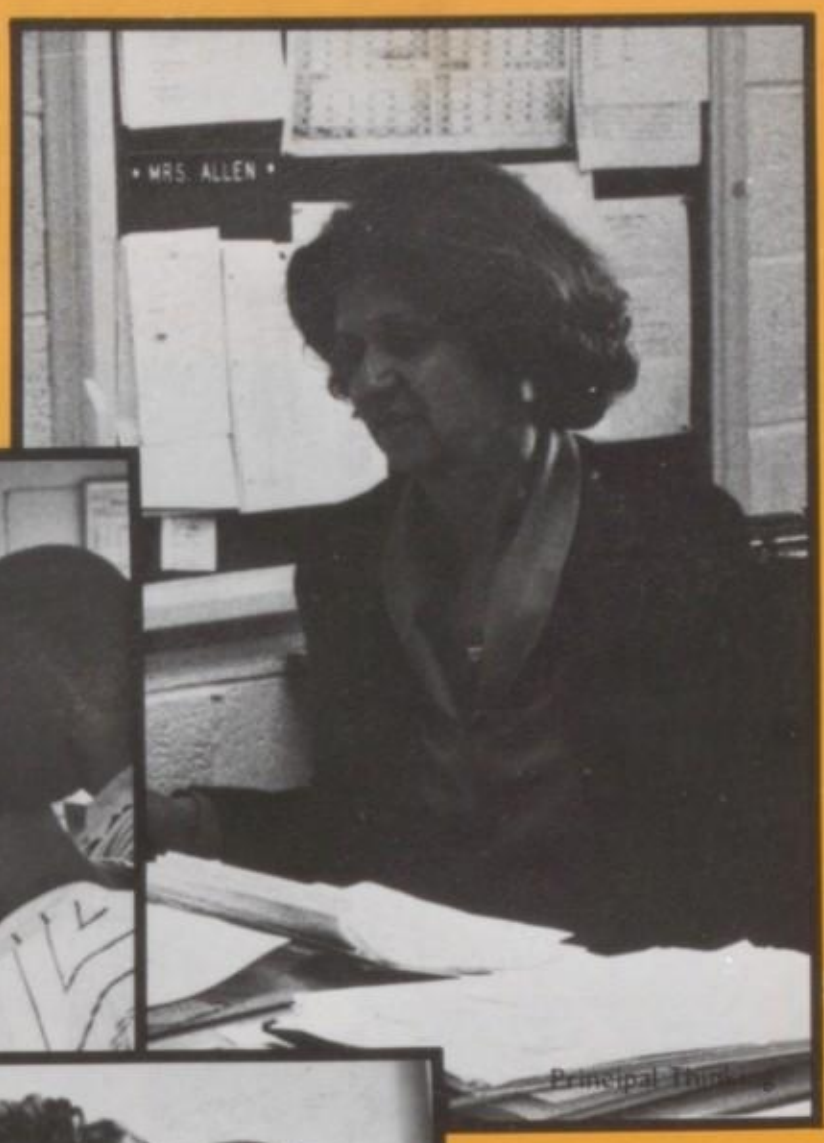
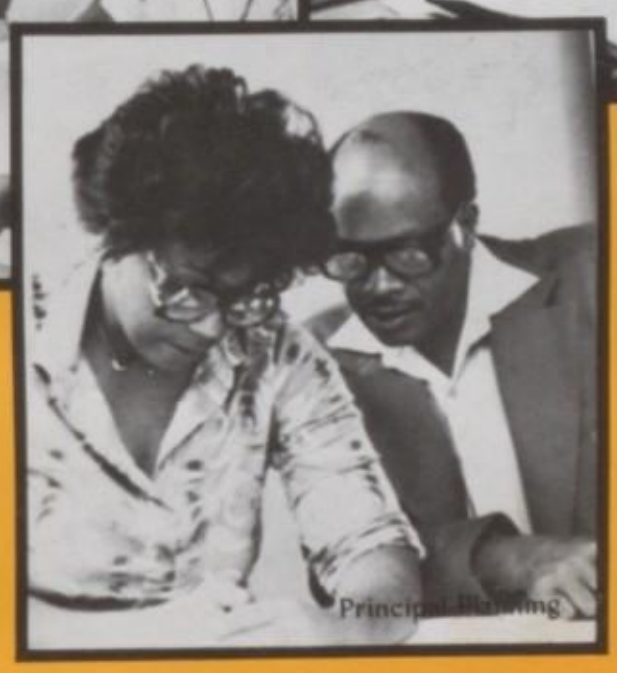
Beginning Again . . .



Principal Working



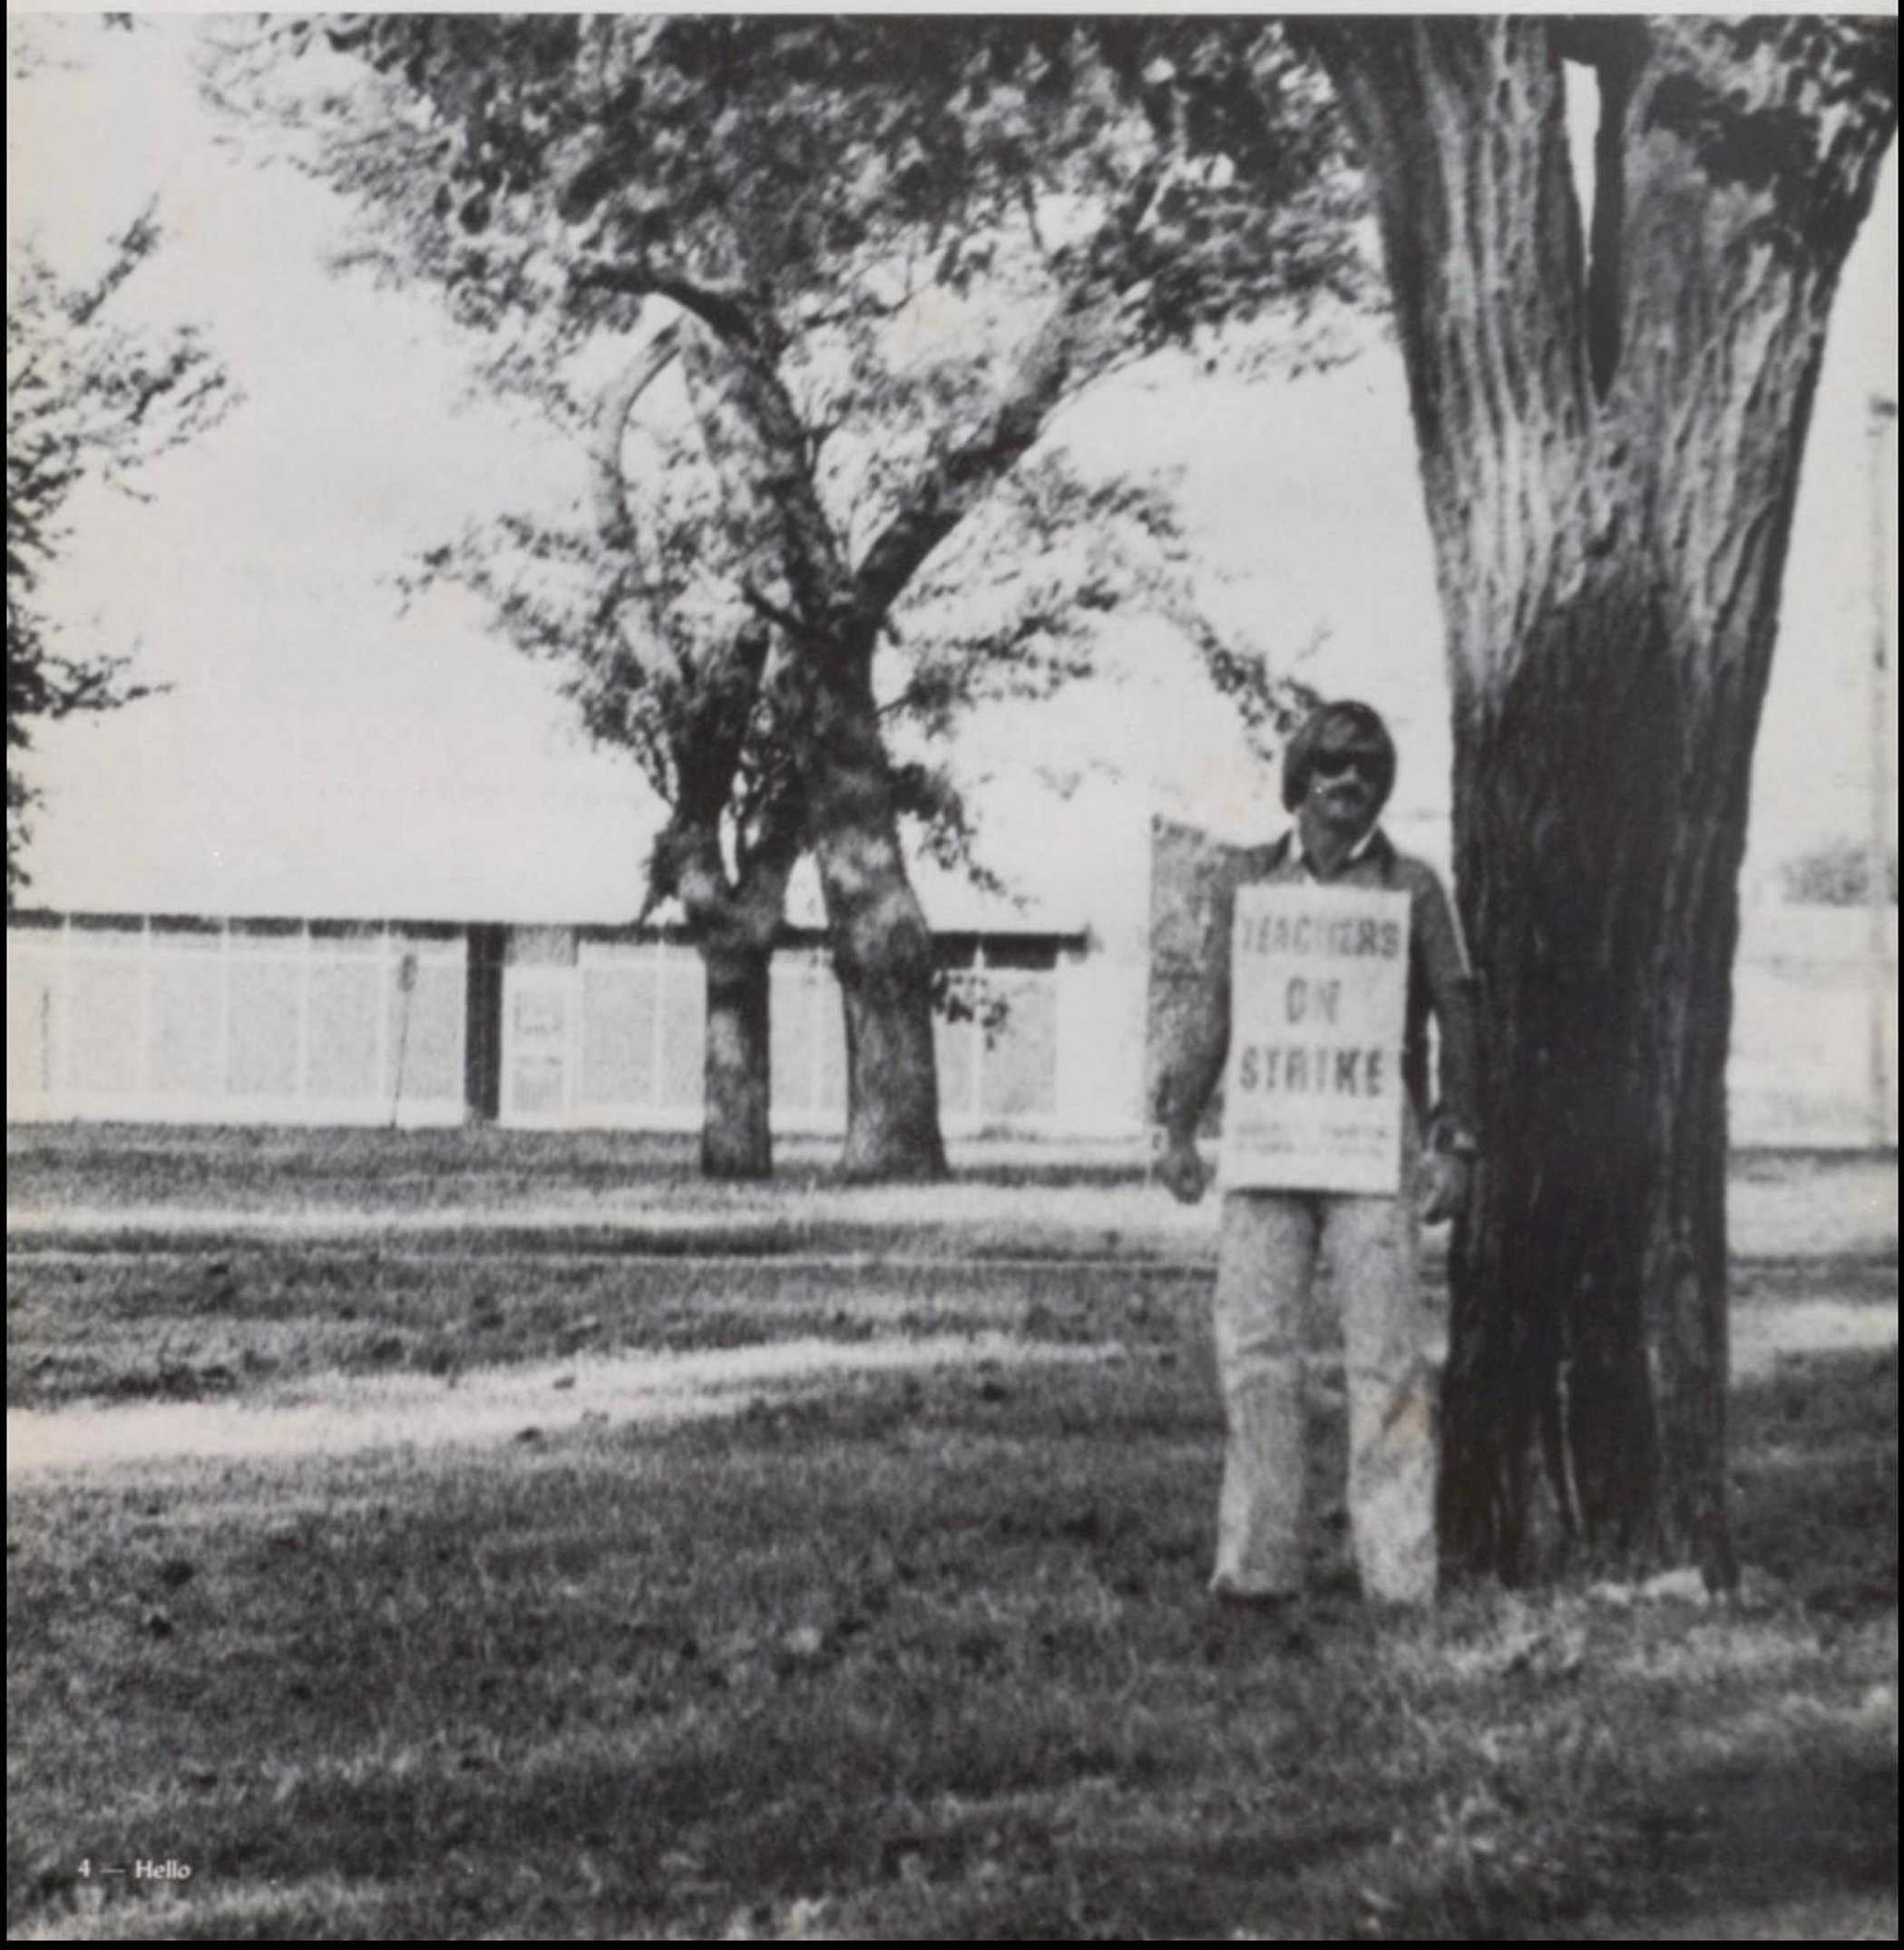
Principal Thinking



Principal Thinking

Beginning a new day, a new year, a new decade, and new hopes and plans to make Douglass a better school. Our administration, with a new leader this year, has initiated many new policies to improve the quality of life at DHS. They hope to provide the kind of environment that makes our hopes realities, and provide lasting memories.

Soon To Be . . .



There are goals in the hearts of all Trojans, goals that may be met with smiles and suffering. We've gone through the bad times together wondering where it would all end. Yet it always works to the good of all concerned.

Fortunately, the good times outweigh the bad. We have the memories of Douglass in our hearts to cherish forever. The best memories are of goals we have achieved and dreams fulfilled.

Everyday and in everyway, there are changes happening all around us. And with each change we are a step closer to our goals. Often we come across obstacles which delay our achievements. Somehow we seem to strive harder, and, in turn, the end is more rewarding. The excitement and the trauma seem to make it all the better. The memories of it all, everlasting.

FACULTY

Dr. Dawkins shows his concern and involvement by working closely with the staff and student body.

Today we all realize we are confronted with more problems locally, nationally and internationally, demanding more knowledge and skills than ever in history.

We are faced with an explosion of knowledge; we are faced with a burst of technology; we are faced with the discovery of new forms of energy; we are faced with the rise of new nations and a world-wide rivalry of idealogies and we are faced with a new leisure, thrust upon us by automation. All of these affect the training or retraining of young men and women. This brings into sharp focus the responsibility of secondary education. The future which we must hurry to imagine is already at the front door.

If there was ever a time when parents, students, and educators needed to have an understanding . . . an appreciation of each other's problems . . . it is now.

Let us strive to become, One Step Closer to that goal.

As Counselor, my concerns are many. I hope to aid my seniors in gaining responsibility, initiative, punctuality, and the ability to make good decisions.

As the years have gone by I have watched the Seniors of 1980 mature physically and educationally. I can see them coming one step closer to their main goal, graduation.

Ms. Moss - Always smiling brightly and talking cheerfully

Keeping on top of things is our financial secretary, Ms. Taylor.

Each day brings us closer to the goals we set in life. Ideas and ideals sometimes seem far away, but each step can bring us nearer to what we desire. What ever our goal, if we grasp and hold to it, it becomes the wisest decision we ever made.

We should be determined to invest our life in the future. Only by investing in the future will our investment yield good dividends. The most precious privilege you can have is to share with others in the making of great enterprises.

We must remember that our desires become our frontiers. It is the frontiers that are capable of shaping great people. The future is filled with challenges; the process of doing things; of asking questions of reality, and helping together with many other people to find answers.

This, I think, will endear us to come "one step closer" to our goals — a good education — the answer to tomorrow's needs.

Reading, Writing And Remembering

Our goal, as always is to produce a yearbook and newspaper which reflect the aspirations and concerns of the students and professionals at Douglass High School and to present the truth about the system that we function in. This should be the goal of quality journalism. If I can teach my young journalists that fact is often more interesting and more enlightening than the fictions the media bombards them with, then I can feel that they have taken the important first step . . . toward understanding the responsibility that freedom of the press carries with it.

CHEMICALS AND COMPUTERS

When asked, how do the teachers feel they are helping their students become one step closer to their goals this year, Mrs. Peters said: In this atomic age, mathmatic occupies a most important role. I do my best to teach the fundamentals of math and to instill the concepts of pride and respect for self, home, school church, and community within each student. At the end of each class I want each individual to feel he or she has achieved something and has been taught facts that may be used to bring him or her closer to the adult world.

Scott Burgess and Travis Gaines look puzzled as they try to figure out what is on the computer.

Mr. Bleuthman said: I attempt to help students come closer to their goal by giving to them concrete experiences they can fit into existing mental structures. In this way the student has the opportunity to develop his or her rational powers and thus learn to think about more productive and creative ideas. Coach White said: Doing the best job of teaching that I know how, even if it means being what kids consider fussy and grouchy.

The music and art departments are very important departments. Mr. Hicks works very hard to make the Concert Choir something to be proud of. We are happy to see that his efforts have paid off. We are also very proud of our Art Department here at Douglass. The talent and dedication found in these students is not often recognized. To the Music and Art Departments we say, "Keep up the good work."

Mrs. Roberson looks determined to teach

Our classes provide the necessary atmosphere that is condusive to the various learning patterns and rates of our students. We provide a basic curriculum along with a work-study program which has proven to be an integral part of a well balanced educational program. We feel the primary purpose of all education is to teach people to think and to be responsible to and for themselves. In order for an education to be meaningful, we must learn to challenge all the things we take for granted; examine all except values and assumptions, and instill the desire to question. We plan to bring our students one step closer by helping them realize what they want to accomplish and how to go about it.

By providing guidance which will give students a sense of direction, learning disability classes help students by teaching them as much as we can about the world in which we live . . . by showing how to use time in school to a persons best advantage . . . by helping students learn how to live happily and usefully with others while still in high school and later in life.

This year will be one step closer to helping our students gain independence and become active participants in the adult way of life.

On The Job

Interdisciplinary Cooperative Education, otherwise known as ICE, is a vocational program designed to give students on-the-job training in a chosen career while students earn credit for time spent in the class room and on the job itself. Students enrolled in ICE get a total of 4 credits and are also paid by their employers for the work they do. Students work a variety of jobs, depending on their occupational objective — what they want to do when "they grow up and get big." Those jobs include secretarial jobs, food service occupations, grocery industry, variety and department stores, and many more. In addition to their jobs, students join the vocational youth organization, affiliated with the program — VICA. Through this organization, students build leadership by participating in various activities which supplement the learning process. In all the ICE program brings students one step closer to their chosen careers.

Cosmetology is a skill that students will develope to prepare them for jobs, such as self employment and professional hair dressers. Ms. Minnifield, the cosmetology instructor, says "I am proud of the cosmetology dept. and the students working in it. I hope its success will continue."

Food management is a learning class placing students in jobs relating to the fast food industry.

The Vocational Center at Douglass High School is one with wide spread opportunities for students to prepare themselves for the future. This gives them a chance to earn a living their own way while continuing their education. The classes, ranging from woodwork and printing to tailoring and auto mechanics give students skills and self supporting job opportunities.

The young people and students of today are often looked down on and criticized to the point of being called irresponsible and self-centered, just to name a few. But look around Douglass High School, what you see will tell an entirely different story. The opportunity is presented for each and every student who will accept the challenge. Many students take advantage of this opportunity by joining clubs and becoming involved in organizations and activities that interest them. High School Students are young adults who can accept responsibility, give of themselves and help others mean while. Of course not all young people are like this but then again, neither are all adults.

Douglass High School is proud of a special "club" that the Trojans can really call their own, better known as the "DHS DANCERS". This group was headed by students who were high on discipline. "Mixed Chorus to me is not just a class of students, it's more like a family. Most of us are Freshman, and the year started out slowly because we were scared of each other. But everyone is coming out of hiding in their shells to become the best Mixed Chorus DHS has ever seen." Mia Rush

Each participant has an important part to play whether it be in the band or vocal music department. Seperately, they are but a single sound. But when assembled, they bring together a sound beyond compare. With the beat of our own DHS Drummers, the band, drill team, twirlers, and majorettes snap to attention. With a glance from Mr. Hicks, the choir stands tall. After hours of practice and sacrifice, the results are evident. Their skill and percision is displayed whether it be on the field or stage. With pride in their hearts and smiles on their faces, each member takes his or her place in the line of tradition that has made Douglass High School a true example of unity.

Lack of communication is definitely not a problem here at Douglass. How could we possibly bind together on the battle field and at play if not for communication and togetherness?

Communication, as we know, is a most vital concept; without it an existence as we know it couldn't be possible. The unique thing about us however, is how we put that concept to work.

Through many activities we show respect for each others views and actions, as only members of a school of our caliber can do.

We start every day at Douglass by hearing the members of our announcers club inform us of upcoming activities, messages from administration and counselors, and events we need to plan for. We could not manage without this valuable service.

The newspaper and yearbook staffs at Douglass serve the purpose of recording some of these same events and activities for our memories and the enlightenment of future Trojans. They are the true historians of Douglass and without their efforts the great Trojan tradition would not be preserved.

The Drama Club at Douglass provides the Trojans with cultural communication and entertainment at assemblies throughout the year. All these groups keep the communication lines open.

The Usher Corps is a very useful group of young people at DHS. They usher at all of our assemblies during and after school. These young people are the ones to help make our assemblies more enjoyable. NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY. These young people are the ones that put all their effort into their work. To these young people it is an honor to be in this club, because to become a member you have to maintain a certain grade average. This year the NHS made a few things for the ill children at Childrens Memorial Hospital, and presented the things to them on Halloween. The MATH CLUB consists of Freshmen and Sophomores. Most students join this club to get aide in Math seeing that as a freshman or Sophomore math is a requirement, and some students have a lot of trouble in that particular subject. The MU-ALPHA-THETA. This club is for Juniors and Seniors ONLY. This club is a more advance math club. The students in Mu-Alpha-Theta are the ones that help aide the other Math students. This year the sponsor of both Math clubs is Mrs. Peters; she is one of the most loyal teachers at Douglass High School to put up with students like us, And we the students here at DHS appreciate her and other teachers like her very much.

Vica Chapter Gains Strength

Fifteen classes each consisting of vocational students, get together and then form the Vica Chapter. Mr. Benefee, the Vica advisor, has much pride in this organization. This year they collected the most toys for the "Toys for Tots" drive held by the Student Council. This year, as many in the past, Vica holds a sweetheart Ball by invitation only. Vica has come a long way and from the sound of it, is going to go much further.

Homecoming Activities Wind Down

Homecoming Week is a time of contest, royalty, and magic. Contestants sell their hotlinks and candy, with one goal in mind, to become queen of their respective class. Much hard work and preparation goes into the Homecoming itself - behind the scenes.

Administrators, faculty, parents, as well as students have an important role to play. But the students seem to be the ones who benefit most; they reap the glory and then share in the fun.

Homcoming is a time for love, romance, fun, and excitement. If you are fortunate enough to share in this experience, it is one you will remember as long as your memory lingers.

During halftime Miss Sophomore, Dana Berry, is crowned and kissed by Tim DeGuisti as Lecia Swain looks on.

Dignitaries who attended the coronation were Mrs. Freddye Williams and Dr. Tom Payzant.
At the coronation, Dr. June Dawkins addresses the crowd.

During halftime with the band, twirlers: Deborah Brown, Teresa Dykes, Felicia Adams

Regina Stepheny and Leonard Parker honored Miss Freshman with "Satin Doll".

Cynthia Ruck and Anthony Foster honored Miss Douglass with "Can You Touch Me".

MC's for the Coronation were David Howard and Avelia Sanchez along with Phyllis Cudjoe and Tim DeGiusti.

Terrie Combs and David Howard honored Miss Trojan with "Misty".

During Halftime co-captain Kerry Madden kisses Miss Trojan as Steve Johnson looks on in anticipation.

The Music Departments, both vocal and Instrumental "play" an important part in the Homecoming festivities. Each year Mr. Hicks chooses five couples to sing to the five queens and their escorts. The band, under the direction of Mr. Francisco, provides the Homecoming game halftime music and program.

The Football team for whom Homecoming is purposed, is also caught up in the excitement. They are the main reason along with the entire student body and faculty of Douglass High School and it's many communities.

DHS . . . Going Places

Make sure you renew your insurance. Mirka Markham is ready for the streets.

We're on our way, really going places moving all of the time, the pace quickens, hurry here and there gotta go no time to wait Don't hold me back, let me be me, I want to be free. "that's what we're saying." From the young Freshmen through the underclass Sophomores and Juniors to the upper class Seniors, we're on our way, going for all we can get.

But with independence comes responsibility: Duties must be accepted, goals set, problems recognized; challenges taken and solutions put into action. Always keeping in mind our beginnings and those who have helped us.

Pierre Holman: stuffing a machine to stuff his face.

Above: Mr. Miles on the prowl in an empty hallway; he seems to be doing a good job. Left: Security guard. Officer Bailey on this little "go-mobile" used to track down students who don't go to class, or can't seem to find their way around.

Always time for a smile . . .

Time just won't stand still, the sun's on the rise, minutes slipping by, times goes on.
Day drawing to a close, who knows, what tomorrow holds?
All we can do is wait, we can only hope for the best,
Take a little time to rest and hope.

Time is rewarding for those who wait.

Ms. Pulley's had all she can take, she's coming unglued . . .

Chantal Curry is losing touch with reality, fading away . . .

it can only go on so long, the end must come.

A recent addition to the Royalty at Douglass high school is the Yearbook King and Queen. The candidates were chosen by the Yearbook staff for outstanding citizenship and school spirit. By purchasing a yearbook, each Trojan was entitled to a ballot to chose the outstanding Senior young man and young lady.

The candidates were presented in a program promoting this year's yearbook. The young ladies nominated for Yearbook Queen are Sue White, Donna Taffe, Pam Wallace, Cheryl Griffin and Gay Hollis. The Young men nominated for Yearbook King are Joe Taylor, Cavorisous Thomas, Ronnie Shoemake, Robert Acosta and William Morris.

The 1979-80 yearbook staff would like to congratulate the nominees and winners of this honor.

Left: Jim Dandy's is a popular Trojan hangout. Middle left: Jeanie Neal enjoys eating in the cafeteria. Lower left: Students use the drive thru at McDonald's to make it to class on time. Upper right: Students take the time to relax on the patio. Lower right: Trojans love to spend their lunch period at Geronimo's Bakery.

Most Trojan socializing takes place during the two lunch periods. During this time you can find romance, lasting friendships and plain fun. Students spend much of their time on the school grounds. The patio is a favorite of many. There are also many popular restaurants in the area where students meet.

Students patronize Geronimo's Bakery, Tom's Market, Jim Dandy's, Sonic and many other local fast food restaurants.

FashionTrendFashionTrendFashionTrendFa

TrendFashionTrendFashionTrend

Fashion has long symbolized a changing of an era. Decades pass and along with them, everchanging fads and fashion.

Every decade has contributed to our present fashion trend, because without our realizing it, the styles we classify as new are without a doubt only former fashions with a new twist.

What is fashion? The dictionary describes it as, "a mode or current way of dressing." This definition gives the impression that to be in fashion one must wear what everybody else wears and that is not true . . . fashion is how you feel about you, and what side of "you" you are trying to get across.

You can see that with the year of nineteen eighty rolling in, the change in attitudes, our nonchalant way of dressing seems to be out. A light is leading us into the future which is reaching us ever so fast day by day. Our mode of dressing is making its mark, some how signifying our nearing adulthood.

The "Fashion Trend" that is about us now, then, is the spirit of a change, the individual approach, and also the sign of a new beginning. After all isn't fashion a never ending pattern of beginnings?

This year focused on the soft feminine look. Many young ladies shed their jeans and slacks and discovered the dress and skirt was not all bad. Above Stephanie Allen poses with a look of sheer tranquility.

Sophistication cannot be left out by any means. Indeed the new era has brought out a new pride in the way we dress, and a representation of the person we are.

While some young women limited their wardrobe to slacks, others continued to wear them in a variety of ways, with varied accesories, and with class, as Sherry does here.

FashionTrendFashionTrendFashion

Chantel Curry demonstrates her version of sophistication, as she looks calmly into the midst.

Super Trojans Shine Through

Behind the scenes students involve themselves in numerous activities. Morning inspiration is a group consisting of students who take time out of their own daily lives to help others live their lives easily, while other groups like the Kilties, are more for fun and entertainment. The Kilties are a group of young men and women who practice and perform Scottish music. They march to the music while dressed in Scottish costumes. They march and perform for activities such as the State Fair as pictured here.

Kilties-Gail Warmath and Dia Johnson prepare to march at the State Fair.

Aides Provide Needed Assistance

Connie Casey shows that there is a lighter side to work.

With all of the extra work piling up in the office and library, helping hands from eager students brings much relief. These students are called aides. There are aides for the office, which help with records and attendance. There are also aides for the library. These aides help in the finding of overdue books, stamp and shelve the new ones, and run various errands for the librarians. Aides can also be found in the nurses clinic. They help with the small duties such as, checking students in and out of the signing sheet and filing records. In some cases aides receive a credit for their deeds.

Checking the attendance records is Edie Pitts.

Lisa Green assists the librarian in search of overdue books.

Couples today are a changing group known as pairs, steadies, boyfriends-girlfriends, lovers, mates, or whatever seems handy at the time. Even though young men and women haven't changed, their ideas and ways of thinking have taken real turns and no one knows whether they are for better or worse.

Today couples are more open and honest than their parents ever thought of being. A person's own independence is now their most prized possession and they'll do anything to defend it. With the awareness of the ERA, both men and women are caught up in the struggle for equality.

But no matter how many discussions take place, men will still be men, and women will still be women and TROJANS ARE NO EXCEPTION!

Trojan Togetherness

A quiet stroll and quick kiss are shared by junior Brenda Nelson and senior Darryl Humann.

Seniors Charles Paxton and Gay Hollis look lovingly into each other's eyes.

Trojans "On The Go"

Despite the expense of gasoline, maintenance, car payments, and other money paid out to keep a car running, a surprising number of students drive cars to school. Now that the students are able to park in the parking lot of their choice, they seem to be exercising more overall responsibility, especially in keeping the areas free of litter. It should be plain to everyone now but for those who do not know, watch out when those Douglass Trojans take to the streets.

Whether in the parking lot or on 59th street, senior Karrie Goforth always gets a look.

Sr. Class President Gay Hollis drives her mini-version of a presidential limosine.

Some people have it really rough, as demonstrated by senior James "JD" Moore.

Sophomore David Ogle agrees, the fewer the wheels the less gas used.

"Ford all the way!" says sophomore Wade Baker.

Frosh Make Memories

Greg Harding

Paula Harmer

"Where am I?" or "Who is that?" are phrases which are familiar to most freshmen at any high school. It will take a while for them to adjust to their new surroundings, but becoming oriented is fun too. It seems there is so much more to do and more to learn. After the fascination of being in high school wears off, some freshmen may even dread the long, tedious four years ahead. If not for the football games, club activities and social events associated with being a teenager, who knows how they would make it. Although they may not realize it this first freshman year is the first step in preparing themselves for the outside world. Their schedules are filled with courses they had never even heard of before. Sure, you think these four years will go slowly. But there will come a day when you say they went too fast. As you take that last step into your future, The Class of 1983 may yearn for these cherished freshman memories.

I feel that as the sophomores of Douglass High School, we have matured a great deal from our freshmen year. We now know that everyone has responsibilities, and we are willing to live up to that. As freshmen we were very curious and playful. Now that we know the do's and don'ts, we are able to set examples for our underclassmates as our upper classmates set examples for us. We are aware of the happenings around Douglass and are always getting involved in different activities to help keep our school spirit. Like they say:

We Are The Best, We Are The One
We Are The Seniors Of "81"

I feel that the class of 1981 has achieved many goals in many areas. As a class we participate in most activities and strive to do the best we can in what ever we do. We attend class well and most of our grades are kept up to par, we have a lot of our school spirit and support in every way possible. I think the Junior class is the best thing that ever happened to Douglass and will be for a long time.

The Seniors of 1981 are making their presence known by their participation in civic and community affairs.

This Junior year is important because these students must get ready for their last year in high school. They must make sure that they have taken the courses needed to prepare themselves for college. Aptitude tests can help the juniors know what careers they could perform best with their skills.

Paula Littlejohn and Vicki Hornbeak discuss career opportunities with Mrs. Moham.

Look at us now! We sure have come a long way. We went through grade school, junior high and now we have reached our final year in high school. When we look back we will remember all the good times we have had as well as the bad. The friends we have made, the things we have learned and all the memories at DHS will always be a part of our lives.

"One Step Closer"

By Gay Hollis

As time draws to an end
We think of how our year began.
It was something that we did not like-
For our teachers were out on strike.

The situation being very unkind,
Ran many thoughts through our minds.
Our teachers being highly respected,
Made this hard to be accepted.

To assist our teachers in displaying their signs-
Students joined the picket lines.
This went on for a matter of weeks-
Although it ended in a sad defeat.

The teachers are now back in school,
To help enforce the Trojan rules.
We know their hearts were lightly cracked,
But we were glad to have them back.

Thinking they're getting a free ride-
The seniors' heads were filled with pride.

Just knowing that we've got it made,
Because we are in the 12th grade.
But no one ever stopped to say,
That we are one step closer on our way.

One step closer for a new life to begin;
Learning to accept our future trends.
Trying to decide what to do,
College or a job, which one of the two?

We're one step closer to graduation day,
Then, my friends, we're on our way.
We've left our mark on Trojan grounds,
Remembering the friends that we have found.

Realizing now that we'll never stand alone-
For Dear ole Douglass will forever be our home.

The football season began long before the other students reported to school. They practiced several hours a day in hot temperatures to be ready for the opponents they had to face. Altogether there were twelve starters returning from last year's crop, headed by team captains Kerry Madden and Steve Johnson.

The team is made up of mainly seniors although the sophomores and juniors will have their chance to lead the team to victories next year. The team found that their roughest rivalry was with Tulsa Washington where they lost 0-62. At the end of the season they ended up winning three of their clashes, over Capital Hill 8-6, Star Spencer 20-14, and Classen 61-6. Although it ended up as a 3-6 season, the Trojan football team put in everything they had to bring out a spirited football year.

Three of our teammates, Kerry Madden, Steve Johnson, and Don Shells were lucky enough to go to all-conference. Don Shells managed to lead in scoring and rushing.

Thomas Wright (25) attempts to tackle while Charles Paxton (51) charges in.

Ron Shells (23) tackles Northeast's (22) while Winfred Coffee attempts to help.

New Look For Roundballers

"The 1979-80 edition of the Trojans saw new faces and new attitudes being introduced to Douglass High school. Two new coaches, Phil Ingersoll and Willie Kelley brought a new style of play to the Trojans. They came to Douglass with no starters back from last year. Yet the Trojans played all the top-ranked teams in the state very competitively and beat many of them. The Trojans wore new uniforms and everyone is excited about the basketball program being built from the freshmen, sophomore, JV and Varsity levels. Douglass High School Basketball will soon be the dominant basketball program in the State."

In the past girls basketball has been of little importance to many people. Unless a school had a program where championship teams came one right after the other, they were literally ignored. But this year the Douglass Trojettes, our varsity and JV girls brought to the minds of many the fact they they have what it takes to be champions. They rely on their own teams for the support they need. They know what it takes to win.

This year the Douglass Trojan Family may bid farewell to head girls basketball coach, Mrs. Alexander. Along with teaching physical education she has coached many different types of sports. Although many people cringe at the thought of meeting her because of her respect for regulations and stern looks to inforce these rules, she is "one sweet lady". As class advisor Mrs. "A" will regraduate with the class of 1980.

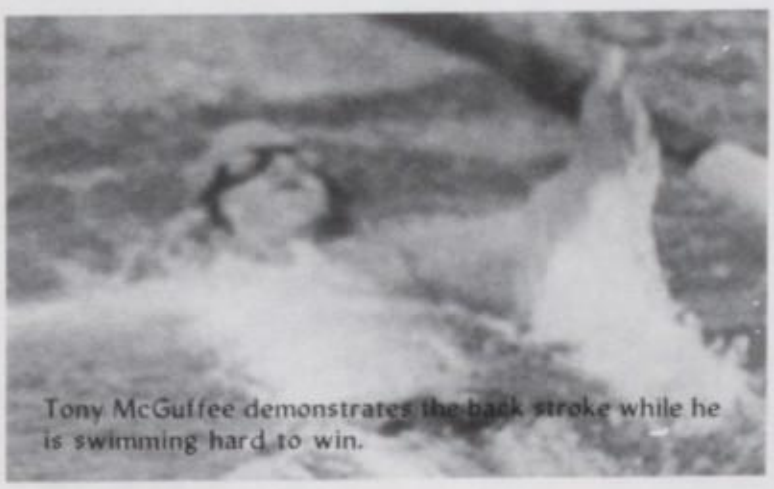
Check out Coach Elliott, she is really timing her students while they are pushing hard to beat her stop watch.



Tony McGulfee demonstrates the back stroke while he is swimming hard to win.

This year the D.H.S. swim team is climbing straight to the top, step by step. The team this year consists of 23 young men, and ladies. They work hard to reach each step closer to the top. You know some people think that just knowing how to swim makes you eligible for the Douglass High School swimming team, But it takes more ... It takes hard work and training. People just don't realize the things that a person must go through to be in the swim team. To make the team you have got to work hard and strive to make it. There are a few basic things you should try to know. For instance, the five basic swimming strokes such as: the free style, the butterfly, the breast stroke, the back stroke, and the side stroke. There are a few other things such as learning to dive and to breathe the proper way. And so these are a couple of things that a good swim team should know. And believe it Douglass has one of the best teams not only because of their ability to swim. They have a not-so-secret weapon too. They have the best coach, Coach Elliott. She works hard with her team just to make it a step closer to reaching their Goal. The Top!

Wrestlers Gain The Respect They Deserve

Wrestlers proved to be fighting TROJANS throughout the 1979-80 school year. Ending the season with a 12-3 record, Douglass demonstrated its determination to be on top. In the All-City tournament, senior Eddie Rodriquez. finished with the championship title, wrestling at 157 lbs. Winfred Coffee, weighing 178 lbs., came in second place. Taking third was Delance Robinson, at 168 lbs. and at 130 lbs., Lester Lancaster. Douglass finished fourth behind other competing high schools. Wrestlers also participated in the Clinton tournament. Throughout each and every match the Trojans continued to show their determination and will to win. When in times of desperation, the support from fans, parents and Mat Maids seemed to shine through and bring the wrestlers to a victory. As in all sports there were losses. And those losses will be learned from. This team consisted of twenty one members; each and every wrestler put his all in the winnings of this year. With the loss of five seniors, the remaining wrestlers will continue to carry out the well deserved reputation of the teams as a whole, and to keep Douglass on top.

. . . for a Trojan win.

As a first year organization, the MAT MAIDS had a number of obstacles to overcome. Through their hard work and dedication, they provided a source of morale. The success of the season would not have been so complete without their presence.

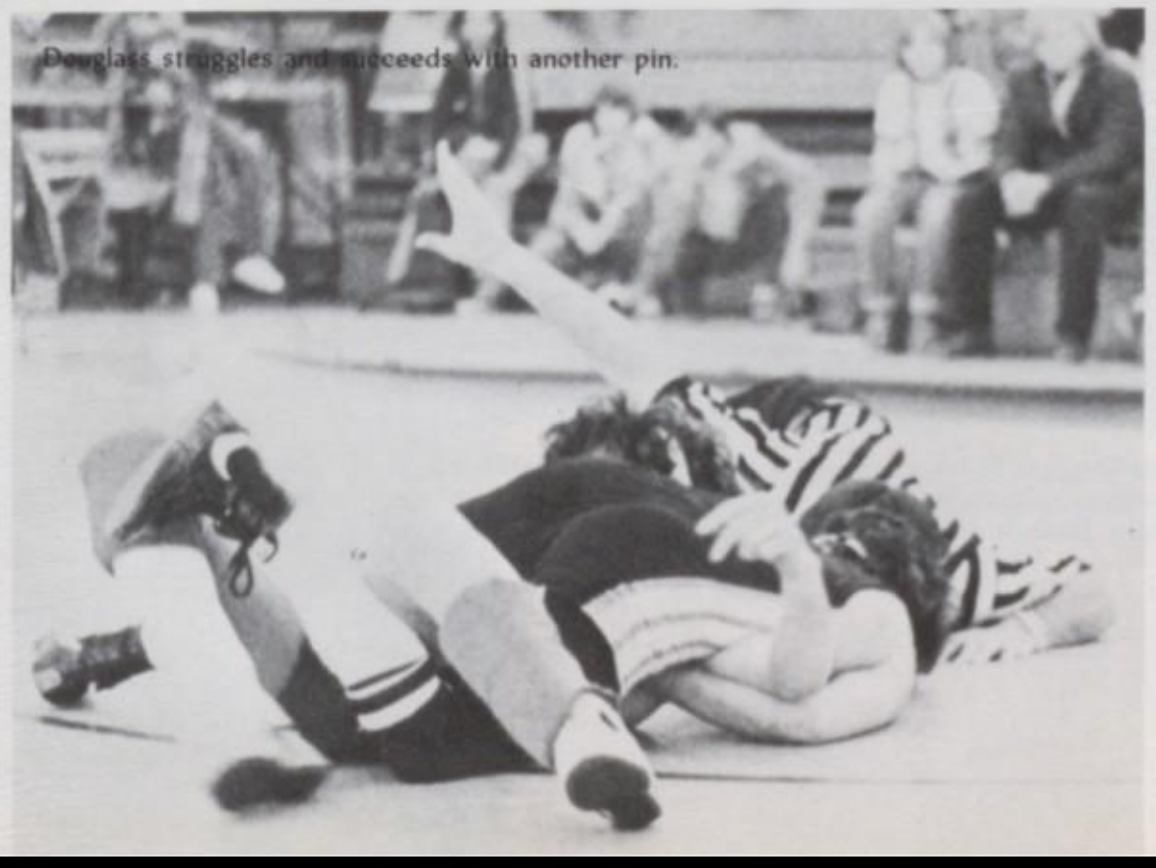
Encouraging Smiles!

This year, for the first time the wrestling team had a cheering squad to encourage them. The group, called MAT-MAIDS, were formed and sponsored by the wrestling coach, J. Reed. The group of girls learned chants and were there to cheer the guys on. When asked what it was like to be a MAT-MAID, all agreed that it was great. It was also exciting and a challenge. The wrestling team also felt excited and challenged. Challenged to keep their minds on the matches!



Douglass struggles and succeeds with another pin.

Track Teams Off To A Running Start

The DHS track teams are off to another great start this year. Track is a very difficult sport to prepare for. Our track teams have made a great effort to be the best they can possibly be. To become a member of the track team you work hard and give it all you've got. Track includes hard and strenuous workouts and keeping your body in shape. Though a few members of the team have graduated that were a great help to the team, we have a promising outlook for our new members. With their coaches and school behind them, we can look forward to a great season. Coach Ryan, who was assistant head coach last year, is the head coach this year. We're all looking forward to what lies in the future.

The Girls Track team here at Douglass is proud and they should be. They've had a great season with many more to come. Some of the scorers have graduated but our new members look great. Their coach, Ms. Elliott is doing a fine job with these girls and things look good. The Cross Country team this year is also doing a great job of making us proud. Their coach is Mr. Reed; he's doing a fine job again this year and we hope it continues. The track teams hold a sparkling outlook for Douglass.

At Capitol Conference the #2 Doubles team of Terry Wilson and Kenny Sandersfield took home 2nd place medals. We would like to congradulate the team for a fine season. The outlook on the 1979-80 season looks promising with returning lettermen and also new recruits.

The DHS girl's tennis team really proved their worth during the 1978-79 spring season. With six returning lettermen, Douglass was well-represented at several tournaments. The #2 Doubles team of Dawn Partridge and Dalita Hilterbran took several medals in their class. At Central State they took first place in the consolation finals, took first place in the Chickasha Inv. Tournament and also placed first in Capitol Conference. The thanks for these honors go to the whole team for their time and efforts.

Baseball played in the spring and Softball in the fall both play a big part in the Douglass Territory. The baseball team has two returning lettermen. But with all the great potential in the newcomers it will be a sure bet for a winning season.

The Trojettes stuck together during ups and downs. Friendships grew and the help and understanding of Mrs. Alexander helped them to work together for a great season. The season ended with 9 wins and 5 losses. A 2nd place in city was well earned by them. They defeated strong hitting teams to the end.

What's New At DHS?

What's new at DHS? The soccer team and golf teams are the latest members of Trojan sports. This makes the third year to have a golf team and the second year to have a soccer team. The soccer team competes with other schools who have organized a soccer team. The golf team competes in tournaments throughout the area. Both teams hope that in the future Trojans will take a bigger interest in these sports.

This year has seen all of us take steps to bring us closer to our goals. Our seniors take that final step into adult life. Our underclassmen move a step closer to the dream of being seniors. Our teachers have taken a painful, long-needed step toward equality and freedom. And we all step into a new decade with the hope that the future will be safer and more enlightened than the past. We, the 1980 Trojan Staff, are proud we walked with you.
